

Title: Santiago environmental sustainability

Generated on: 2026-04-14 02:22:56

Copyright (C) 2026 ALEXANDRA BESS. All rights reserved.

---

With around 8 million inhabitants, Santiago is the political and administrative center of Chile and faces important challenges: strong socio-spatial segregation, unequal distribution and access to green ...

Santiago is forging a path toward sustainability with a strong commitment to green initiatives that encompass its energy sector, waste management systems, transportation, urban ...

We leverage a deep understanding of sustainability metrics, regulatory compliance, and stakeholder expectations. We'll guide you through integrating environmental, social, and governance principles ...

Institutions aligned to Stgo+ 32 The Stgo+ Green Infrastructure Plan is an indicative strategic planning instrument built through collaboration between public, private and civil society actors. It seeks to ...

Developing a green infrastructure plan in Santiago as a shared territorial strategy and a means of unifying different stakeholders relevant for dec...

According to experts, much work remains to be done in terms of sustainability. We must invest in services, social policies, and environmental actions that improve the quality of life of citizens, just as ...

Currently, plastic usage is growing and continues to be a threat to public and environmental health in the ocean and in cities. A huge opportunity exists for city governments to implement policies and projects ...

Together with Columbia University, the Santiago Center is committed to advancing Chile's environmental leadership and building a sustainable future for both the country and the global ...

Website: <https://lesfablesdalexandra.fr>

